Alea Global Group was honored to return to the UAE to host family offices from all over the Middle East and beyond for the highly-anticipated Middle East Family Office Investment Summit.

Now in its ninth edition, the two-day summit brought together the most prominent and influential families in the region and those who wanted to do business with them.

The diverse programme featured a host of high-profile speakers from a variety of backgrounds including finance, economics, healthcare, and sports. Each speaker brought extensive insight into their fields. A well-organised schedule also allowed room for discussion between all participants and guests.

Who was there?

- 136 single family offices attended the summit.
- 42 service providers attended to meet and mingle with the family offices.
- Our Summit Partners were Varsity and Saudi EXIM.
- Our Co-branding Partners were LakeStar, Omere Foundation (and Omere Logevity Institute).

Background

Alea Global Group works closely with the regional and global business community, and monitor wider current affairs, so that it can plan a programme to help attendees navigate their family offices to further long-lasting success.

The focus is not only on business, but on every aspect of running a family office, including legacy, personal wellbeing and lifestyle.

All our summits are known to provide an informal environment in which speakers and delegates can share their expertise and experiences with one another, as well as providing excellent networking opportunities for all.

The Programme

Sessions explored the economy, finance and investments, opportunities and challenges, asset allocation and innovative investments, real estate, private equity, and more.

Keynote speakers included Prof. Adah Al Mutairi (Scholar, Inventor, Entrepreneur, USA & Saudi Arabia), Tareq Azim (Empower, USA), Abdulla Al Gurg (Abdulla Al Gurg Global Investments, UAE), Mohammad Bin Hendi (BinHendi Enterprises & GCEO, UAE), Zainab Boushahri (Boushahri Specialized Polyclinic & Boushahri Clinic, Kuwait).

As always, the summit gave participants enough time to network and discuss opportunities and ideas during formulated discussions and breaks.

Signature roundtable discussions, eight in total, helped promote the sharing of experiences and brainstorming of ideas in facilitated and balanced discussions.

Testimonials

"I really appreciated the roundtable discussions about how family offices consider macro risks, the insights from people actively operating their businesses and family offices, and the networking sessions. There was a lot of content and speakers. Overall, a great event!"
